The DIMMER VIEW

by Max Goodwin

Anxious Reader

Yes. Meat prices are too nigh. A few weeks ago we attended a conference sponsored by the California Beef Council. The feed lot people (they hold the animal about 10 months) claim they make about five per cent. The packing people claim about the same margin. News stories previously indicated that the retailer and the breeder are also short on profits. Council members claimed demand made the prices high but that didn't compute. Someone had to be getting that extra money that is created by demand.

This wire service story was released a few days after the Council's May meeting:

"Missouri Beef Packers, Inc., expects to report earnings for the quarter ended April 28 soared to $517,000 or 45 cents a share, up 388 per cent over the year-earlier's strike-affected net of $105,990, or 9 cents a share."

We think somebody's fibbing.

Check List for Young Narcotics Users

It's vacation time again and most youngsters are running wild. They are enjoying their new-found freedom right up to the hilt.

It is also the time of experimentation and hazard. Without school supervision, youngsters may take the opportunity to become acquainted with the deadly world of drugs.

How does a parent tell? Here are some guidelines:

Has the once alert, friendly, studious teen-ager developed a Jekyll and Hyde personality?

Or is the youngster cheerful one day and depressed the next? Has there been an abnormal inclination to drowsiness and irritability, an inability to concentrate and a tendency to tell little white lies?

If your youngster displays any of these characteristics, you may have cause to worry, for he may be on the road to narcotics addiction — if, indeed, he is not already "hooked."

Because of widespread parental concern about drugs, the safety research department of an insurance company consulted experts on narcotics to produce a set of symptoms to look for in detecting addiction.

"Actually, the signs of addiction are easy to spot, if one is really looking for them," observed W. Clement Stone, president of Hearthstone Insurance Co., who has been associated with juvenile narcotics work for more than a decade.

Stone is an advisor to Teen Challenge, a nationwide organization that works with juvenile narcotics addicts. It is headed by the Rev. David Wilkerson, the evangelist.

Generally speaking, Stone said, heroin addicts display some or all of these symptoms:

Needle marks on arms or legs, watery eyes, furtive glances, chronic drowsiness, marked restlessness, upset stomach, ulcerous sores, strong body odor, habitual scratching or nose-rubbing, frequent dizziness, mental and physical deterioration, spells of preoccupation or talkativeness, depression and despondency and a persecution complex.

Government narcotics experts in the Department of Health, Education and Welfare and the National Institute of Mental Health described some obvious symptoms of the use of amphetimines, or speed. There is a tendency to talk loud and fast and pace the floor. Loss of appetite, irritability and instability also are the marks of the "speedfreak," along with lethargy, fatigue, muscle pains and depression that can lead to suicide.

One high on LSD has an increased pulse and heart rate, higher blood pressure and temperature, dilated pupils and cold, sweaty, trembling hands and feet. A pallor, chills and goose pimples often develop, along with a wet mouth, irregular breathing, nausea and loss of appetite.

Smoking marijuana, or pot, produces increased heartbeat, coughing spasms, hunger and drowsiness.

One of the thousands of addicts who have sought help at Teen Challenge said he wished his parents had kept a closer watch over him.

"I'd check how long a kid stays in the bathroom," the young addict said, "If he is there very long, he might be taking drugs. I used to do that.

"It's a good idea to look for some of the signs of narcotics. If arms or handkerchiefs have any blood on them, it might mean a kid has been using the needle. Also, when he gets high his eyes get very red, especially from marijuana, and his pupils get very small.

"People can tell from locking at you if you have been smoking pot. Dark glasses help because when a fellow is high on marijuana, he can't stand the sun. When a kid gets into the habit of wearing sunglasses all the time, it's a sign he might be using drugs."

What should a parent do when he comes to the painful conclusion that his child is "hooked?"

Confront the youngster with the evidence, and then ask him if he needs — and wants — help.

You can show him you love him and want to help him. Recriminations will only drive him deeper into drugs, it is suggested.

TRUSTEES RETIRE — Plaques were awarded to two retiring trustees of local school districts last week at a luncheon ceremony. Taking part were Dr. Robert Sutton, superintendent of the Lemon Grove School District; Dr. Austin Sellery, superintendent of the Grossmont High School District; Palmer Svalstad, retiring trustee, Grossmont District; Bert Cosby, retiring trustee, Lemon Grove District, and Louis Poluzzi, president of the L.G. Kiwanis Club. The ceremony took the place of the regularly scheduled Kiwanis meeting.

Service Clubs Honor School Board Retirees

Two veteran school board trustees were feted at a luncheon last week sponsored by the Kiwanis and Lions clubs of Lemon Grove.

Plaques, desk sets and certificates were presented to L. G. School District Trustee Bert Cosby and Grossmont High School District Trustee Palmer Svalstad as part of a noon time ceremony at the L.G. Bowlero.

Each of the recipients had contributed 19 years to his respective board. Svalstad will spend more of his time with his family. Cosby, recently promoted by PacTelCo by whom he is employed, will devote more time to his new duties.

Those taking part in the program included James Dorman, Lions president, program chairman; Lou Poluzzi, Kiwanis president, introductions; The Rev. Michael Maxson, invocation; Max Goodwin, editor, tribute, and Tom Brogan, a teacher, who did a Bob Newhart skit which was a comic highlight. Brogan is past president of the L.G. Teacher Association.

Presentations were made to the trustees by Dr. Robert Sutton, L.G. School District superintendent, an award from the district; Dr. Austin Sellery, Grossmont High School District superintendent, for the Grossmont District; San Miguel Principal Harold Ball, a contribution to education plaque for the Kiwanis club; V. J. Dorman, past president of the Lions, a contribution to children award for the L.G. Lions club, and Dell Lake, president of the L.G. Chamber of Commerce, desk sets for the chamber.

Goodwin, in tribute, noted that school boards will continue to thrive because of people, such as the retirees, who willingly contribute 19 years of effort to back up their sincerity.

In response, the trustees said that outstanding administrative staffs and teaching personnel had made board service rewarding.

Huntington Park Men Arrested On Marijuana Charges

Two Huntington Park men were arrested in Lemon Grove last week on charges of possession of marijuana.

When contacted, the cigarette was not seen, but an odor of marijuana was noted about both suspects' persons. They were arrested. One of the suspects allegedly had a greenish vegetable material on his teeth.

The theme was set for the Lemon Grove Lions club 1973-74 season Saturday night at a pre-installation dinner at Carlton Oaks Country Club.

Jim Dorman, the retiring president, will turn the reigns of the club over to Les Cleer tonight at a regular meeting of the club at Ox Bow Inn in Casa de Oro.

Dorman noted that during his year the club had successfully operated a trash can replacement program, an eye screening project through the White Cane project; participated in the Old Time Days and Casa de Oro parades, supported L.G. Bobby Sox and Sky Grove Pony League teams. More than $1,000 was contriuted to comunity projects during the year, he said.

Swimming Pool Eyed For Mt. Miguel High

A group formed last week for the purpose of raising funds for the construction of a swimming pool at Mount Miguel Hgh School.

The group, a representative cross section of the community, according to Robert Pyle, Mt. Miguel principal, elected Bill White as its president and is now known as the Miguel Comunity Aquatic Center Committee.

At the meeting last week, it was announced that the Grossmont High School District has agreed to supply $25,000 for the project, and the possibility of county funds to aid the project was discussed. A goal of $200,000 to finance the aquatic center was set.

Fund raising plans are now underway by the school Boosters Club.

Warrant Leads To Marijuana Arrest Here

A Lemon Grove man was arrested in his home last week on charges of possession of marijuana after a deputy Marshal served a traffic warrant on him.

According to reports from the Sheriff's Department, the suspect, Gary S. Carpenter, of 3224 Massachusetts ave., Lemon Grove, was contacted outside the home by the deputy, while the suspect was changing a tire.

The suspect asked if he could finish changing the tire, but the deputy said no, but that he could wash his hands. The deputy accompanied the suspect into the home, where the suspect was washing his hands when the marijuana was seen.

The deputy Marshal then summoned a deputy Sheriff, who arrested the suspect on the marijuana charge. A search of the house uncovered a total of about six ounces of marijuana.

Otay Water District Rescinds Plans For Fire District Merger

The Otay Municipal Water District Board of Directors last week rescinded an earlier resolution paving the way to the merger of the Otay District with the Bonita-Sunnyside Fire Protection District.

The action was taken following action by the County Board of Supervisors setting up conditions for an election to be held to determine if the merger would indeed have the support of the voters.

The supervisors decided that the election should be held in the fire protection district as well as in the water district. Water district directors objected, feeling that an election in the fire district would be sufficient, since the merger would not affect water district taxpayers, a water district spokesman said.

A resolution of concurrence was adopted by the Otay board earlier after the directors of the fire district requested consolidation with the water district.

"The supervisors' action is a denial of the inherent right of the Bonita-Sunnyside citizens to determine their own destinies in the matter of fire protection and its cost," according to Ralph Chapman, president of the board.

A spokesman for the board noted that, although the proposal would have no effect on the water district voters, there are 12,500 of them, and only 3,300 Bonita-Sunnyside voters.

Additionally, the cost of an election in the Bonita area would be about $1,500, as compared to about $6,000 for the entire area.

The district also claims that every knowledgeable person contacted in local government agreed that the supervisors' action has set a dangerous precedent without any guidelines.

The board also indicated that the election would be a meaningless exercise in futility, with the cost becoming an unnecessary burden on the taxpayers.

Supervisor Dick Brown, representing the second district, which covers most of the area served by the water district and the fire district, gave background on the situation which led to the decision by the supervisors.

Although fire district-water district cooperatin is desirable on a regional basis, Brown said, Otay-Bonita consolidation would eventually cause a problem, as the Bonita area would be part of a south bay regional program and the Otay District would be part of an east county program.

For that reason, the merger would be a mistake, Brown said. Additionally the supervisor explained, Otay's contention that the plan would not affect local taxpayers is doubtful.

The fire district currently operates on a 96-cent tax per $100 assessed valuation, but evidence points to a tax hike of about five cents, Brown said, an increase which would be borne by the entire district, if the merger were approved. On that basis, the supervisors decided that voters of both districts should vote on the matter.

The rest of the time was taken up with acquainting the newly installed officers with their duties, and discussing the scheduled meeting of June 27.

Fire Destroys $45,000 Home

The cause of a fire bringing over $50,00 damage was not certain this week.

The blaze, which broke out at about 11 p.m. last Friday, completely destroyed a $45,000 home at 2601 Roca Verde st., Spring Valley, while its owners, the Robert A. Darrohn family was apparently vacationing.

Estimated loss of the contents of the home was in excess of $5,000, according to Spring Valley Fire Chief Stanley Mourning.

Mourning said that there was apparently someone in the home before the fire started. The blaze apparently began in a ground floor laundry room, where an electrical extension cord, ungrounded, was found.

LETTERS

Stull Letter Supports Craven For Assembly

Dear Editor:

An open letter to Bob Moretti, Speaker of the Assembly.

Dear Bob:

An article in the San Diego Union quotes you as saying, with reference to the Republican candidate in the special election currently underway in San Diego County, "'John Stull did not want the nominee to be the nominee'." I resent this deliberate falsehood.

As everyone knows, I remained neutral during the primary election. Surely you are knowledgeable enough to recognize the difference between neutrality and opposition, and if you are not, then you have surely been misreading my character for these past six-and-one-half years!

I wholeheartedly support Bill Craven, the Republican nominee, and will do all that I can to insure his election. If you choose to support financially the campaign of his Democrat opponent, that is certainly your prerogative. But I'm telling you, Bill will win the election!

I have publicly urged all voters, especially Republicans, to support Bill Craven, and I am confident that they will do so overwhelmingly June 26.

Sincerely,
John Stull
Senator, 38th District

Heart Alert

Dear Editor:

When the San Diego media takes on a project, which as a group they think is important and of real value to the community, we simply cannot lose. Such was the case with Operation Heart Alert recently and I would like to extend my personal thanks to you and all your people for publicizing this event as well as you did. It was eminently successful.

The San Diego County Heart Association advises me that our total of the July 2-3 weekend, plus Navy screenings, brings us close to the 50,000 mark. Compared to other cities who had similar projects this puts us in a runaway first place position. All of this denotes that our total success was first of all dependent upon the support of all media, and the more than 1200 professional volunteers.

Many thanks, and I know there were instances where those who didn't know they had a problem found they did, and it probably saved their lives . . . and that's got to be a very satisfying feeling.

Best regards.

Sincerely,
Clayton H. Brace
Vice President and General Manager
KGTV McGraw-Hill Broadcasting Company, Inc.

Address Change

Dear Editor:

In January of 1972 you graciously printed an item I submitted, telling of the death of Carl Sunbury, and giving the address of his mother, Eleanor E. Sunbury, in Phoenix, Arizona.

As a result of the item in your newspaper, Mrs. Sunbury received many notes and letters from old friends and neighbors, all of which cheered her more than you can know. She has continued to correspond with many who wrote to her at that time.

Mrs. Sunbury has just finished moving to a new address, and in a letter I received from her yeterday, she requested that I "broadcast" her new address for her as she cannot possibly write to everybody (all at once, that

Hardison's Telespanish

"Vuelve" is a variation of the verb "volver." "Vuelve" can mean "it returns," "she returns," "he returns," and "you return." Usually it will have a related pronoun to help indicate which one of the four expressions are to be used. This may be demonstrated in the expressions "Ella vuelva en dos dias." (She returns in two days.), "El no vuelve pronto." (He will not return very soon). Also, "Cuando vuelve usted?" (When do you return?)), and "Porque yo no se cuando vuelve." (Because I do not know when it will return.)

"Vuelvo" is the first person form of "volver" and means "I return." This is demonstrated in the phrases "Yo vuelvo ala casa cada dia." (I return to the house each day.) and "Yo vuelvo a la tienda cada semana." (I return to the store each week.).

"Volvemos" is the way to say "we return." We may use this in expressions like "Volvemos juntos a la escuela." (We return together to the school.), "Como volvemos el dinero a nuestros amigos?" (How do we return the money to our friends?) and "posiblimente volvemos pronto." (We will possibly return soon.).

"Vuelva" is the command form. It is used to stress or command one to "Return!" This may occur in phrases like "Vuelva usted cuando se puede." (Return when you can.), and "No vuelva la corbata todavia." (Don't return the tie yet.).

"Vuelto" is the past participle of "volver" and means "returned." This form is usually found with a helping verb like "he" (have) or "ha" (have). This may be seen in the expressions "Yo he vuelto." (I have returned.) and "Ella no ha vuelto." (She has not returned.). Also, "Usted ha vuelto muchas veces." (You have returned many times.).

Scouts, Cubs Plan Summer

Boys who are now completing the second or fifth grades in school are eligible to become Cub Scouts or Boy Scouts, according to William C. Lochmoeller, Membership Chairman of the San Diego County Council, Boy Scouts of America.

The local BSA council has 365 Cub Scout packs and 417 Scout troops in San Diego County. They are part of the youth program of local religious, educational, civic, fraternal, and other community groups.

"Scouting is for all boys who have completed the fifth grade or who are 11 through 17 years of age," Lochmoeller said. "The focus of the program is on rounding out a boy's physical and mental fitness through a vigorous program of activities. They meet once a week as a troop under the guidance of a Scoutmaster and are also members of a smaller group called a patrol."

Lochmoeller explained that Cub Scouting is a family-centered program for boys who have completed the second grade or who are 8 through 10 years of age. They meet weekly as a den under the supervision of a den leader. Monthly, all the dens come together for a pack meeting led by a Cubmaster.

THE WINNER — Little Sylvia Rivera, 5, a resident of Home of Guiding Hands, accepts $8,000 check from Pat Breen, president of the San Diego County Sheriff's Assn. Bud Fusaro, chairman of the championship wristwrestling contest by which the money was raised, and Donald Chambliss, administrator of Home of Guiding Hands near Santee, look on.

Home For Retarded 'Winner' Of San Diego Wristwrestling

Wristwrestling got its start in a barroom and hasn't advanced very far — if you judge by the types who grunt and grimace for trophies and prizes at the contests.

Yet, "Wide World of Sports" is said to have reported that the annual showing of the event attracts more viewers than any other regularly carded event they shoot.

And in San Diego there was a splendidly positive wristwrestling fall-out. That was the production of $8,000 for one of the area's most deserving charities, the Home of Guiding Hands, the home for more than 200 retarded people, of which most are children.

The wristwrestling championship was sponsored in San Diego at the Sports Arena in April by the San Diego County Sheriff's Association and all the proceeds was turned over to the Home of Guiding Hands at a June 12 press conference at the Hilton Inn. The conference was arranged by Association manager Bill Clements.

The $8,000 check was presented to Sylvia Rivera, 5, an attractive little resident at the home, by Pat Breen, president of the Sheriff's Association. It was the largest single donation ever made to the Home, according to Donald Chambliss, Home administrator.

Chambliss told sheriff deputies of the need for such contributions at the six-year old facility which is noted for its work with retarded children.

"We have to depend on 20 per cent of our income from contributions to meet our budget of $1,200,000," Chambliss said. "And the need grows. As funds become available we intend to expand from 208 to 280 capacity. Right now we are looking at a three year wait for most youngsters," he said.

H of GH is not a day-care center. Patients live at the new, modern facility which is on Los Ranchitos rd. near Santee. Most of the patients are between the ages of 9 and 14 — and few ever leave. Only 11 have left during the life of the facility. Some of these were service-connected families. This suggests that the facility will continue to operate at capacity in the foreseeable future.

In telling of the need and the appreciation for financial aid, Chambliss also noted the need for physical contacts. "Many of these youngsters never have visitors. The families of some have moved away. There are others who simply don't care. Having visitors is so vital to these youngsters that we encourage people to spend an hour or two here. It doesn't matter that they do not know the residents. It is a rewarding experience," he said.

Chairman of the wristwrestling championship was Sheriff's Detective Bud Fusaro for the Association. "It was a worthwhile project," he said.

Hitt Claims Third Super Stock Victory

Lemon Grove mechanic Jim Hitt served notice on other drivers at Cajon Speedway last weekend that he is the man to beat in 1973.

Hitt, who had to challenge for the lead twice before claiming the victory in Saturday night's 30-lap super stock main event, won his third main of the season.

The victory moved him into second place, dropping former second place driver Pat McIntyre of Spring Valley, into third place in the point standings.

For Hitt, the victory was an old one. He moved in front early in the race, then got caught in a three-car tangle on the 17th lap. Three laps later he reclaimed the lead for good.

Middleweight Love May Start 'Up the Ladder' at Coliseum

Boxing returns to the "new" Coliseum Friday night as Dave Love, (17-3) classy, popular San Diego middleweight meets Marko Gerardo (24-6) of Los Angeles in a 10 rounder.

Matchmaker-promoter Mickey Davies has carded three 10-rounders in a set of fights that should bring joy to any fight buff.

A fast-action pair will be featherweights Art Hafey (25-1) of Nova Scotia and San Diego. He takes on Ricardo Garcia (20-4-3) of Mexicali, Mexico. Hafey recently stopped world's no. 8 bantamweight, Famoso Gomez while Garcia has mixed it with Bert Nabaltan and Tony Jumao.

In the third 10-rounder, lightweight Julio Lopez who won an impressive fight from Tony Bellard on the first card of the season two weeks ago, will fight Tony Niebla of Tijuana. This will be Niebla's first fight outside his home town and he carries a respectable 15-2 record.

Love who admits to having the style of Sugar Ray Robinson and the weaving motion of Archie Moore, told Sportscasters-Sportswriters Monday that he "intends to be the world's middleweight champ. He didn't get much opposition from the statement either.

Love's manager-trainer, Juan Bustamante has just split Love's contract with Angelo Dundee, the manager-trainer of Muhammad Ali. This indicates that Love is on his way up — if he can get enough fights to keep him in shape. His last fight was three months ago. He needs to fight every three weeks, he admitted.

The fights start Friday at 8 p.m. at which time 2,000 general admission tickets will go on sale at half-price—$1.50 Ringsiders are $6 and $7.50.

Reservations may be made at 232-8362.

Angels Take Over Pony League Lead

A change of name helped the Green Hornets, now known as the Angels, take over possession of first place in the Sky-Grove Pony League last week.

The Angels, powered by Mark Foster, racked up a pair of victories in as many tries. Foster twirled a one-hitter over second place Ned's Out-Board, 7-3, then hit an extra-inning home run to give the Angels a 4-2 victory over Murphy Plumbing.

Ned's Outboard won its only other game, 7-4, over A-Rooter, while Murphy managed a split of two other contests. Bruce Frank homered to aid a 5-3 victory for Murphy over the Lions, but the Lions put two runs across in the twelfth inning to win, 3-1, in the other game.

Lions added a 2-1 victory over Lido's, as Dana Hughes belted a two-run homer for the winners.

In the league's only other game, it was Lido's over A-Rooter, 10-2.

The league managers also met last week and selected Dave Terrell as tournament team manager and Larry Cuchman as coach. The playoffs, to be hosted by Sky-Grove, begin July 11.

McNab, Evans Safari Adds Strength Down the Middle

Strength down the middle is important in baseball and just as meaningful in hockey. With that in mind, Gulls general manager Max McNab and coach Jack Evans spent last week at the NHL meetings in Montreal with the purpose of giving the club added depth at center ice.

The Gulls have added two centers to the current roster, Bernie Gagnon and Al Genovy. Gagnon was selected in the reverse draft from the St. Louis list and Al Genovy was obtained from the Detroit Red Wings organization.

Gagnon played last season with Denver of the WHL and the Ft. Worth Wings of the CHL. He scored three goals with the Spurs before heading to Texas. With Ft. Worth, the 5-9, 175 pounder slammed home 25 goals in only 36 games. A native of Montreal, he is 24 years old and he played his amateur hockey at the University of Michigan.

Another graduate of college hockey is Al Genovy. He is 5-10, 180 pounds and learned his trade at Denver University. Al played 66 games last season with the Ft. Worth Wings and scored 23 goals. He also played five games with the Tidewater club in the AHL and tallied twice. Genovy is 25 years old and a native of Flin Flon, Manitoba.

Goaltending is another aspect of "strength down the middle' an the acquisition of netminder John Adams gives San Diego a young, veteran (4 year pro) goalie. He comes to the Gulls via the Ken Broderick trade with the Boston Bruins. He cleared all phases of the drafts in the recent NHL meetings and he officially is the property of the Gulls.

Last season Adams, who will be 27 on July 27, split the year between the Bruins and the Boston Braves of the AHL. Born in Thunder Bay, Ontario, Adams had a 3.30 goals against average in 23 games with the Braves and a highly respectable 3.00 mark in 14 games with the Bruins.

NEW MANAGER — Alex Bradley, newly appointed manager of the Spring Valley Branch of Home Federal Savings, announced last week that Home Federal has a five-year expansion plan aimed at $2.5 billion in assets and expanded customer services. Principal aspects of the plan, Bradley ley said, include creating several new types of accounts for added customer convenience.

Imperial Adopts Saturday Hours

Effective Saturday, all branch offices of Imperial Savings and Loan Association of the South, with the exception of the Calexico and National City offices and the San Diego head office at 2320 5th ave., will be open on Saturdays from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m.

This was announced today by Harry H. Holthusen, president of Imperial Savings of the South.

Holthusen said "Saturday hours have been adopted to provide maximum convenience to Imperial customers. Saturday is often the only day that working people have available to transact their business affairs. Imperial is pleased to provide this additional service."

There are 31 Imperial offices throughout Southern California, and a total of 61 throughout the state. Imperial Savings is a subsidiary of Imperial Corporation of America, which has assets in excess of two and a half billion dollars.

New Deal Seen For Ace Drive In

By Max Goodwin

The local drive-in theatre has undergone a change.

That is the word of the new manager, John Cardile, who has been operating the Ace Drive In for the past several months.

A native of New Jersey and the father of four youngsters — the oldest of which is a teenager, Cardile claims the Ace has become one of the fastest growing theatres in San Diego.

The Ace had long been regarded as a trouble spot by area police. Once attracting hoodlums who drank, fought and out-raced police (it even had a shoot-out, once). it has quieted down, the hoodlum element dispersed, and local family movie-goers are returning Cardile said.

"I got rid of the leaders of gangs that once frequented the place and who caused most of the trouble. When they found out I meant business, they quit coming," he said.

"I started a file of license plates of numbers of the troublemakers and they were banned until they met our terms of behavior."

Cardile said that a general painting project has been started, repaving would be under way during the week and the snack bar had been completely renovated.

"Everything that can be improved, will be and everything that can be done to make the Ace a wholesome entertainment center will be done," he said. A playground is being designed for early construction, he said.

The theatre, which is adjacent to St. John of the Cross church on Imperial ave., is said to be one of the fastest growing (attendance) in the San Diego area. "We plan to keep it thriving without the use of X-rated movies," Cardile said.

"Here and there people have come to learn how much the Ace has improved. I patrol the lot myself, I have lit up the dark spots and put lights behind the area which once was where trouble often commenced.

"I hope the community will continue to patronize the theatre because we intend to make it as wholesome as possible," he said.

Officers at the local sheriff's office said trouble at the Ace Drive In is at a long-time low as far as they were concerned. Cardile said there had been but one fracas there in recent months and that he handled that himself.

Operators of the theatre sued this newspaper several years ago for an article it claimed to have been libelous. The suit was withdrawn on the day of the hearing.

Airforce Veteran

Cardile lives in Lomita Village and is a Southern Baptist. He is a veteran of 2½ years with SAC in the Air Force. He appears to be a man who has the energy to meet his commitments.

His position is proper when he says the community needs a good, clean, outdoor theatre to which youngsters may go. And many of the residents in this area are ready to commend the management when the renovation is complete and as the theatre establishes a track record as a wholesome operation.

Cal Tyler, general manager of the firm that operates eight theatres, including the Ace, said this week that Cardile was well ahead of schedule in rebuilding the theatre's character. "We stand squarely behind Cardile in his determination to make the Ace a place local residents will be proud of. He has several community projects planned to bring the theatre closer to Lemon Grove and Spring Valley families. We're fortunate to have Cardile as a manager there and we think local people will say so, too, in time," Tyler said.

NEW ASSIGNMENTS — Carl Lacki, left, and Al Woods bid one another good luck in new assignments with the Bank of America. Lacki has been named the new manager of the Lemon Grove branch of BofA, while Woods is leaving the local branch to take over at the National ave.-Sampson branch in San Diego.

Gulls Get Added Strength in Middle

One major rule change came out of the meetings of interest to WHL fans. The overtime period will return to the league, effective this coming season. Any game that ends in a tie ater regulation time will have both teams come back for a 10-minute overtime period. The first team to score during the sudden death action wins the game. If there is no goal by either team in the 10-minute period, the game then officially ends in a tie.

'Flesh' Shows, Porno Flicks Bloom In Grove

'Waitresses in the Nude' Condoned by Court

by Max Goodwin

Edward C. Janssens is a quiet - spoken, nice looking Lemon Grove business man.

But the business he runs is one of the controversial ones operating locally.

He operates a place at 7868 Broadway near Massachusetts, which he calls The Swingers Theatre. Across the top of his building is a sign proclaiming it the "Naughty Spot".

"Swinger Theatre" or "Naughty Spot" by whatever name is one of a growing number of "flesh" operations which thrive in the Lemon Grove area.

Earlier this year this newspaper published an article on the Foxy Lady, a topless beer bar located at 7828 Broadway, in the center of the business section. The owner said the "expose" caused his business to boom but noted that the "article" would not win a Pulitzer Prize."

Shady Lady ladies dance bare from the waist up, on a stage behind a bar. Patrons watch the shakes and wiggles goggle-eyed while sipping beer.

They serve no alcoholic beverage at Swingers because they have no license nor want one Janssens said. Alcoholic Beverage Control can order arrests if complete nudity or pornographic movies are part of the "entertainment." So Swinger sells no alcoholic beverages. Just soft drinks. And they sell them for 25 cents a bottle—about the same price you'd expect to pay at a church picnic.

Nude Waitresses

But it's the service that's different and that's what makes it all the more controversial. The waitresses serve the drinks in the nude—even down to bare feet.

While sipping soft drinks—which the patron may legally spike with booze that he would have purchased at a package store elsewhere—the theatre - goer watches stag movies.

The program lasts about three hours. The show is made up of plotless scenes of sexual acts. Background music is rock emanating from a record player. Theatre - goers appear to keep their eyes glued on the screen while in-toto waitresses glide through the darkened room carrying two-bit soft drinks.

My waitress was an attractive girl about 24 with long blonde hair. She was inclined to folksy, friendly talk. "I like it here. I meet a lot of nice people. I been working here about two months" were some of the informational gems. She reminded me of a kindergarten teacher I once knew.

"I like to date," she said "just like any working girl. I'm single, so if a fellow appeals to me and asks for a date, sometime I date him. But I never cut work to date." She said the work hours made dating awkward. She works the 7 p.m.-1 a.m. shift. I paid for my Cola and left a quarter tip.

Janssens charges men $5 to enter the theatre. Women are admitted free. About 20 men occupied booths during this reporter's visit.

The movie projector needed attention. We chatted as he made adjustments. Whenever I referred to the flicks as "pono movies" he corrected me. "They're stag movies," he insisted. Apparently there is a fine legal line between "porno" and "stag" movies.

Janssens said business had had been slow. "We have maybe 60 people in on a week-end night. Mostly couples. We have a lot of business men who come in regularly. They just want to sit down and relax."

Because the business is not guided by liquor regulations it can stay open long after the bars close. But Janssens prefers to close no later than 1 a.m.—to avoid the bar-closing drunks, I suppose.

Lonely Hearts?

In spite of the audience being all men the night I was there, he insisted that couples usually predominate. "You might call it a 'lonely hearts' club. Couples meet here to make friends. A guy met a girl in here just the other night, and they started dating steady. Now they're going to get married," he said.

"No, we don't have any trouble here. We don't serve liquor and we don't admit drunks. Our audience is made up of moderate drinkers who bring their own liquor. Most all of them stay the full three hours."

Swingers is open each evening except Sunday and the waitress force is doubled from two to four on Fridays and Saturdays.

As a courtesy to patrons who come alone, Swingers operate a dating service, Janssens said. Soon after the patron lets it be known he wants a date, he gets a telephone call on a private line at the Swingers which Janssens says is strictly a courtesy.

"We don't have anything to do with the dating service. She calls him and they work it out.

"No, I don't know anything about any financial arrangements.

Court Protection

Police here claim they have no basis for taking action. One officer said that operators of such firms stay within the courts' interpretation of the law. The fact that it is a private enterprise and that people are paying for the purpose of seeing a "show" has to do with the legality, it was said.

A sign, which explains "policy" is easily read from the street is at the Swingers' entrance. It reads:

"Consenting adults should enjoy complete sexual freedom. Therefor, as a courtesy of this theatre club we are happy to bring swinging couples and singles together for mutual enjoyment.

"Ladies who are shy are welcome to call 462-3421 and we will connect you with interested singles and couples inside. 462-3421 is reserved for women only."

That, we suppose, has to do with the dating service. We used that number to ascertain the time the place was to open that night.

There are those who would demand that the police close places where nudity is displayed. But the truth is that they can't even close massage parlors. Until citizens demand that "consenting adult" judges hand down stronger decisions, Lemon Grove seems destined to be the center of "nudie" attractions.

Records in the County Clerk's office show Jerome F. La Freniere to be the responsibility at the Naughty Spot.

United Way Sets $6.9 Million Goal

A goal of $6,952,942 for this fall's United Way campaign was adopted last week by the Board of Directors of United Way of San Diego County.

The amount to be sought in the county's major annual fund campaign is nine per cent or $574,096 more than was raised in the 1972 campaign, Philip M. Klauber, United Way president, said.

Over the past seven campaigns, Klauber noted that the average amount of increase over the preceding year had been $388,195 or 7.9 per cent.

Alex De Bakcsy, chairman of the 1973 United Way, and general manager of the Union-Tribune Publishing Co., accepted the goal on behalf of the campaign leadership.

In brief remarks, De Bakcsy summarized progress to date in recruiting a volunteer campaign organization equal to the task of meeting the campaign challenge.

He recognized the significant role played by organized labor and reported that full support to the drive had already been pledged by R. R. Richardson, campaign vice chairman, and secretary-treasurer, San Diego-Imperial Counties Labor Council.

De Bakcsy called for the assistance of all United Way board members and urged their active participation in the campaign effort.

Sharptown Gets New Owners

Sharptown, the sharpening service at 7878 Lester, has become a family affair with its purchase by Joe and Niki Findley. Sharptown has been in Lemon Grove for over ten years and was bought by the Findleys in March. Mrs. Findley and her brother, David Hollingshead, run the shop while her husband is working as an electrical contractor.

A. E. "Bob" Howell Home After Long Hospitalization

A. E. "Bob" Howell, a Lemon Grove tax expert and real estate dealer, has returned home after a long siege in the hospital, his wife said this week.

She said he had suffered a heart attack, a stroke, a kidney infection and double pneumonia but he is now resting comfortably at their home at 10511 Grandview, La Mesa.

She said he wants company and expressly wants to see members of the L.G. Kiwanis club of which he is a veteran member.

His home telephone number is 442-8654.

An ardent horseman, Howell brought attention to the community by his annual appearances in the Rose Parade, resplendent in his silver trappings, astride his Arabian horse.

His two offices — one in Lemon Grove and the other in San Diego — are closed temporarily until it is decided how they will be operated.

ASTREA Aids In Arrest Of Female Suspect

The Sheriff's Department helicopter, ASTREA, was instrumental in apprehending a burglary suspect over the weekend in the Mt. Helix area.

According to the ASTREA log, the helicopter was called into action at 4:50 p.m. Sunday to help in the search for a female burglary suspect in the vicinity of the 9900 block of El Granito on Mt. Helix.

After circling the area, the helicopter crew spotted a suspect apparently hiding behind some rocks. As ASTREA neared, the suspect ran, but the helicopter followed while directing ground units to the scene.

Sally Jane Webb, 18, of San Diego, was apprehended by ground units and arrested, charged with burglary and illegal entry.
